Last Week's Meeting

By Rick Platt

Director Tony Adams presided over the meeting as the other officers were in New Orleans for the Rotary International Convention. The meeting developed a theme of efficiency from the get go as Tom Slater led the club in R-O-T-A-R-Y not to return for a second song and Director Tony, in acts of further efficiency, led the club in the Invocation and Pledge after also fixing the microphone.

Announcements:

Director Tony reminded members that next week's meeting would see the annual presentation of Rotary Awards. He also made note of letters received by the club in recognition of foundation support to Special Olympics and Shelter Box.

Tom Cummiskey said Camp Enterprise sign ups were on the tables for both lunch on June 7 and for volunteers, still needed on Tuesday and Wednesday of the week.

Director Tony recognized Ashley Wade, Rod Yost, and himself for agreeing to serve as hosts for at least one of two likely Youth Exchange students slated for this next school year as part of Rotary International's "New Generations" effort.

Introduction of Guests:

Director Cara Riddel introduced guests. Visiting Rotarian Linda Griewe, formerly of the Newark club, was introduced along with guests Adam Davenport (Tony Adams), Wilma Ree (Mel Ree), Jim Meyers (John Weaver), John Campbell (Rod Yost), and Carol Thress (Tom Hall).

Richard Prystowsky, it was noted inefficiently, introduced John Berry, Student Life Dean at OSU-Newark, to read the bios of COTC/OSU-N students Patrick, Roma, Lanessa, and Shane.

Michele Layman opened the discussion for consideration of two amendments to, respectively, the bylaws and constitution of the club. In a move of efficiency, Dick Reed moved to close discussion and vote on the amendments, forgoing paper ballots. His motion was seconded and a unanimous vote from the floor in favor quickly brought a close to the action.

Sergeant-at-Arms:

Sergeant –at-Arms Pat Jeffries fined Mike Vitt, Glenn Abel, Tony Adams, Rick Platt, Marcia Downes, Steve Layman, Rick Battat, Todd Ware, Fred Paetz, and Tom Marcelain for various infractions ranging from being too efficient (doing the prayer himself) to lost name badges.

Pat joked that, along the theme of today's program, that he once had proudly told his father he was selected to play the part of a family man married for twenty-five years in an upcoming production. His Dad responded, "Too bad. Maybe you'll get a speaking part next time."

Special Presentation: Bob McGaughy came forward to remark upon a Paul Harris Fellow being presented posthumously by the club to Matthew Trombetta, Weathervane Playhouse's Managing Artistic Director who died in tragic car accident on June 13, 2010.

The Program

Tom Hall thanked the club, on behalf of Weathervane, for the honor of the Paul Harris Fellow and noted the Playhouse's efforts to build a theater arts building in Matthew Trombetta's name. Saying it was "all about the air conditioning" in reference to the 2010 improvements made to the Weathervane Playhouse complex, Tom introduced Weathervane's Artistic Director Bryce Corder.

Corder introduced members of the 2011 Summer Company and gave an overview of the five selections from the upcoming season which begins June 2nd. He especially noted the numerous local and regional connections coupled with national experience in this year's Company.

A Gahanna native who had achieved national stage fame sang a piece about dreaming of life in the suburbs from Little Shop of Horrors. The club was treated to another Central Ohio native's guitar solo rendition of "Guv'ment" from Big River. A piece from Chicago and a Denison student's rendition of "The Hills Are Alive" from The Sound of Music followed.

Corder concluded with a thanks to the club for the invitation to speak and for recognition of Matthew Trombetta.

Raffle: John Weaver won the raffle and agreed to donate the proceeds to the Weathervane's fundraising with Director Tony, efficiently, deciding to donate all of the days' fines to the same.

In a final act of efficiency, Director Adams noted the meeting concluded at 12:58 p.m.
